

The Birthday Party

Peter Mayer / Key: D

D Am C G
I Saw The Buddha Open Up His Eyes One Sunday Morning,
D Am C G
Say He's Invited To A Party For Christ And He Must Be Going,
Am F C G
He Heaved Himself Up With A Groan, Standing Slowly,
Am F C G
Came Down The Steps Of Stone
Am F C G D Am C G
And Asked Me Where To Catch The Next Train To Jerusalem

D Am C G
In India He Sang With Hindus As They Prayed By The Ganges When The Dawn Came,
D Am C G
Near Arabia He Saw Mohammad On The Train, And Asked If He Would Join Him,
Am F C G
Passing Those Teeming Towns, They Talked For Hours,
Am F C G
All About The Truth And How It's Discovered,
Am F C G D
Trading Bits Of News And Stories From These Thousand Years,
F C G D
Saying "Great Idea This Party For Jesus",
F C G G D Am C G
Then Mohammad Said "Hey Buddha, It's Great To See Ya"

Finding The Place With The Help Of Abraham Waving From The Doorway,
They Greeted Faces From A Thousand Holy Lands, Present Day And Always,

Everybody Talking, Laughing, Fiercely Debating,
Saying How Desperately The World Is Changing,
Then Somebody Lit The Two-Thousand Candles,
And They All Toasted Jesus, Born In A Stable,
Then Jesus Said "Hey Let's Not Be Such Strangers"

Oooh: D Am C G D Am C G D Am C G D Am C G

I Saw The Buddha Open Up His Eyes One Sunday Morning